

OZMOZIS

OUR TEAM

OzMoZis was founded in 2009 by Dr. Michael Baxter, former World Bank Director in southern Africa. Having worked in development in Africa, Asia and the Pacific, and Latin America for over 30 years, Michael has extensive experience and networks in the public and private sectors in southern Africa and beyond. He has demonstrated an ability to produce incisive analysis and advice in a range of sectors. Highest quality, concise reporting and the most insightful and practical cross-sectoral advice are hallmarks of his and his team's work.

The OzMoZis team is composed primarily of highly-skilled and independent-thinking Mozambicans. Our staff and key consultants are deeply experienced in local culture and ways of working. They understand how to design and deliver successful private and public sector development initiatives and investments.

WHAT WE DO

OzMozis provides quality analysis, strategic planning, program/project design, and support to investors, governments and development donors. We focus on quality and practical advice and analysis, and on results.

Our work is built on the recognition that sustainable development is best delivered through clearly designed and monitored programs, and on the alignment of investment programs with government priorities and national development goals.

WE SPECIALIZE IN FOUR AREAS:

- Providing investor support and risk assessment, focused on the extractive industry sector;
- Managing project design and implementation, especially around government policy, skills development, local economic development, community and environment issues, and participation processes;
- Understanding policies, priorities and practices of government, donors and investors; and
- Supporting regional and rural development, including planning and financing mechanisms, and value chains.

OzMozis is licensed by Mozambique's Ministry for the Coordination of Environmental Action (MICOA) to undertake environmental and social impact assessments.

While our focus is on Mozambique, OzMozis works throughout southern Africa. Our staff and consultants have knowledge of, and experience in, all countries in the region and in many beyond.

OzMozis works with clients in both long-term relationships, and on specific tasks.

OUR MAIN PRODUCTS INCLUDE:

- Representation services for investors;
- Research and analysis, including on investment and political economy issues; and
- Project and survey design, implementation and evaluation.
